Self-Portrait, 1889
Vincent van Gogh (Dutch, 1853 – 1890)
Oil on canvas
Collection of Mr. and Mrs. John Hay Whitney,
National Gallery of Art, Washington

Join the Newport Beach City Arts Commission and friends from the Newport Beach community for a visit to the Norton Simon Museum in Pasadena. The Norton Simon Museum houses one of the most remarkable private art collections ever assembled.

As part of the exchange series that brought Raphael's Small Cowper Madonna and Vermeer's A Lady Writing to the Norton Simon Museum, the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C., will once again lend a monumental work. This December the Museum welcomes Vincent van Gogh's hauntingly compelling Self-Portrait, produced in late August 1889, less than a year before his untimely death at age 37, in July 1890.

Van Gogh's Self-Portrait will be on view in the Museum's large 19th-century gallery alongside another painting he executed at Saint-Rémy, Mulberry Tree, from October 1889 (created only two months after the Washington painting), as well as other earlier paintings by Van Gogh in the Norton Simon collections. The Self-Portrait will be displayed through Monday, March 4, 2013, and then will return to its home on Constitution Avenue in time to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the artist's birth, March 30, 2013.
